

Having problems with your long pieces of text fitting how you want them to? If you place text using the Word Wrap method you can quickly and easily modify your paragraphs of text.

Placing the Text

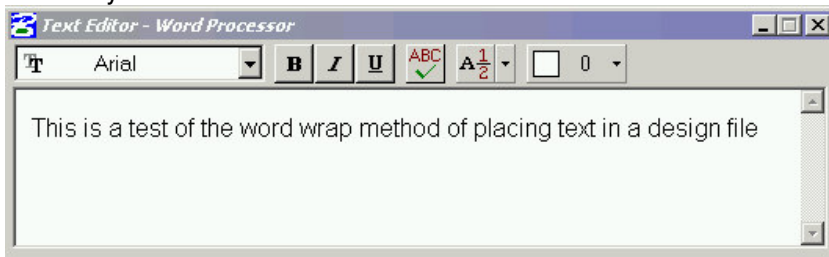

1. Ensure that you are using the Word Processor for placing text
2. Choose the Place Text command

3. Select the Word Wrap method

4. Enter your desired text

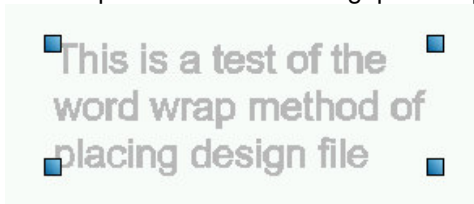

5. Pick two data points defining the location of the text

To modify the text use your Element Selector

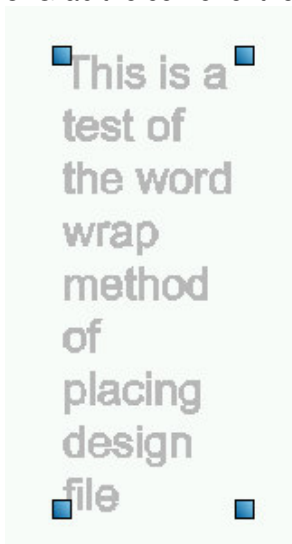

1. Choose the Element Select command

2. Data point on the text and grips will appear.

3. Grab the corner of the text in the direction you wish to modify and data point to accept.

Your paragraph has then been modified to your liking. This is a pretty neat new trick from Bentley.
